

Through Karl Marx Eyes

October 11, 2009

The greatest enemy of communism was Christianity and the heart and core of our daily faith is sustained by the family. Marxism is an alternative theology that seeks to undo the government of Jesus in our lives. Ephesians 6:4 gave the responsibility of educating our children to their parents, so Marxism began in the 1920's to push for compulsory public education. Ephesians 5:22 taught women to be in subjection to their husbands as head of the home, so Marxism began sewing the seeds of discontent in women with the headship of their husbands pushing them into all of the traditional roles filled by men. Jesus (Matthew 19:2-6) taught that God designed marriage from the beginning and condemned all other unions as sinful, so Marxism began promoting "gay" and lesbian causes, "free love" and the abolition of marriage. Christ placed great value in children (Psalm 127:3) so Marxism began to blame the world's ills on excess of population (the specter of food shortages, pollution, global warming, ...) therefore justifying the abortion of unwanted children and the desperate promotion of sterilization and birth control and the stigmatizing of large families.

If the Bible called something wrong, Marxists would invariably find some way to call it right. Antonio Gramsci of Frankfurt School (set up as a think tank to promote Karl Marx theology) writes to, "Marxise the inner man ... to alter the Christian mind to turn it into its opposite in all its details so that it would become not merely a non-Christian mind but an anti-Christian mind." They targeted the women first. Lenin wrote, "Unless millions of women are with us, we cannot exercise the proletarian dictatorship, cannot construct on communist lines." The influential Betty Friedan, The Feminine Mystique, was a Stalinist-Marxist hoping to shape us into a Soviet style America. Her tactic was to create ferment by making women unhappy with the joys and duties of womanhood. Marx has been diabolically successful at inspiring women to tear down their homes and families with their own two hands. They want us to think that Christ has oppressed women and trampled on their rights. To the contrary, Christ has been the single most liberating force for women in history. He has raised women to a place of honor offering them purpose, dignity, worth and true power. Among pagans, women were freed from slave-like positions. Marx is returning women to degradation and men to the role of primitive exploiter of women just like the ancient pagans that Christ transformed.
